Utility Allowance Map Notification

Utility Allowance Map Notification

It has come to our attention that a DCA Housing Assistance Division regional contact map posted on the DCA website has been used by some property managers instead of the DCA Utility Allowance Map. This may have caused some properties (especially those located in middle Georgia) to utilize the wrong utility allowance for tax credit only properties.

If you have a property in middle Georgia, please affirm that the correct region and corresponding utility allowances were used and that tenants have not been overcharged the maximum allowable rent.

The following is guidance from the IRS 8823 Audit Guide regarding the steps that must be taken in the event it is determined that this caused a tenant to be overcharged. It is critical that any mistake must be corrected before a DCA file audit is undertaken in order to minimize a significant compliance finding. DCA is not modifying its audit schedule at this time.

Guidance from the 8823 Audit Guide

Over-Charged Rent

Once a unit is determined to be out of compliance with the rent limits, the unit ceases to be a low-income unit for the remainder of the owner's tax year. A unit is back in compliance on the first day of the owner's next tax year if the rent charged on a monthly basis does not exceed the limit. An owner cannot avoid the disallowance of the LIHC by rebating excess rent or fees to the affected tenants.

NOTE: State agencies should be reviewing the most current utility allowance computations. In the example above, had the owner recognized the noncompliance issue and reviewed the utility allowances before the state agency contacted them to schedule its review, then the owner would have been in compliance at the time to the review.

8823 Audit Guide, 18-11

*Reporting Noncompliance * Noncompliance should be reported whenever the rent paid by the tenant plus the correct utility allowance exceeds the maximum gross rent limit.

Example 1: Increased Utility Allowance Causes Rent to Exceed Limit The maximum gross rent limit is $500, but the owner charged $415 rent and a $50 utility allowance for a total of $465. The utility allowance increases to $95 the next year. The owner should reduce the rent at least $10; i.e., $$405 + $95 = $500$. However, the owner does not make the adjustment to the rent and is out of compliance; i.e., the low-income units are not rent restricted. The owner is charging $415 rent and a $95 utility allowance for a total of $510, which is more than gross rent limit of $500.

Noncompliance should not be reported if: 1. Regardless of the error, correcting the utility allowance does not cause the rent to exceed the gross rent limit, or 2. Noncompliance is corrected before the owner is notified of the state agency's review.

LIMITED ENGLISH PROFICIENCY (LEP) GUIDELINES

On September 15, 2016, HUD released the Office of General Counsel Guidance on Fair Housing Act Protections for Persons with Limited English Proficiency memorandum, providing guidance on how the Fair Housing Act applies to claims of housing discrimination brought by people because they do not speak, read, or write English proficiently. The DCA encourages its partners to review this guidance and visit the HUD LEP Frequently Asked Questions (FAQS) on the Final LEP Guidance.

The DCA will accept notarized documents, but will no longer require residents in the program to submit a notary signature on the forms and will not require notary signatures on any forms in the file audit process. Please email Compliance@dca.ga.gov with any questions.

New Blast Schedule

To reduce the email notifications on your end, the DCA will send out the Compliance Blast only twice a month.
